(54) Title: CERTIFICATE BASED AUTHORIZED DOMAINS

(57) Abstract: The present invention relates to a method, a system and a central device for secure content distribution among devices in a network. The invention is based on the idea that an authorized domain is set up with a central device administering the network. When a device enters the network, the central device registers the entering device and issues at least one certificate to the entering device. The registration to ensure that the entering device is an authorized device, meaning that an authorized device manufacturer has provided the device. Due to network security, non-authorized devices are not accepted in the network. Content is distributed among the devices in the network based on authentication by means of the at least one certificate issued to each device. The distribution of content from a first device to a second device is enabled by the first device authenticating the second device, by means of the at least one certificate of the second device and vice versa.

* Special categories of cited documents:

- *A* document defining the general state of the art which is not considered to be of particular relevance
- *E* earlier document but published on or after the International filing date
- *L* document which may throw doubts on priority claim(s) or which is cited to establish the publication date of another citation or other special reason (as specified)
- *O* document referring to an oral disclosure, use, exhibition or other means
- *P* document published prior to the International filing date but later than the priority date claimed

- *T* later document published after the international filing date or priority date and not in conflict with the application but cited to understand the principle or theory underlying the invention
- *X* document of particular relevance; the claimed invention cannot be considered novel or cannot be considered to involve an inventive step when the document is taken alone
- *Y* document of particular relevance; the claimed invention cannot be considered to involve an inventive step when the document is combined with one or more other such documents, such combination being obvious to a person skilled in the art.
- *G* document member of the same patent family
